HUERTA SUMMONS ARMIES

MEXICO CITY, April 21.—“Every Mexican will be called upon to defend the republic in case of invasion,” declared Minister of War Blanquet today, after a conference with President Huerta.

A general call for volunteers to fight United States troops is reported to have been already prepared and probably will be issued this afternoon.

New recruiting offices were opened late this afternoon and scores are volunteering for service. About 300 Americans, mostly women and children, left here on the late morning train.

President Huerta today reiterated his determination to protect all foreigners, but asserted that if any were killed as a result of disorders growing out of the situation the real responsibility would rest with the United States.

“The policy that the American government is following is particularly unfortunate at this time,” he said.

“The Mexican government is striving to prevent a condition of chaos in the republic, but just at the time when we are looking to success we are threatened with international complications. Naturally, the patriotism of Mexico will not tolerate the sight of its government trampled in the dust, but we hope to prevent any marked violence developing from the resentment that our people will feel.”

The President refused to state what plans his government was making in the present crisis.

“The first move will have to be made by the United States. That government has no basis for its action. President Wilson says that the American flag was displayed on the boat whose crew was arrested at Tampico. I say that it was not. I can do no more without putting a stain upon the honor of Mexico.”

President Huerta today ordered large forces of military police placed at important points in the city. They were ordered to disperse any crowd, but from recent indications they will have little to do.

THE SHADOW OF DOOM

General spathy prevails among all classes, and even publication of the fact that an American fleet is spending the coast to seize Tampico and Vera Cruz failed to arouse any outburst of patriotism.

The squad of twelve policemen sent to the American embassy by Huerta last night was withdrawn today and immediately replaced by a squad of fourteen men. The guard will be maintained night and day.

SENATE MEETS TO ACT ON WILSON'S "WAR MESSAGE"

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Decision by the Senate of the United States upon the issue of peace or war with Mexico attracted to the capitol today crowds equal to those which sought the galleries of the House yesterday when President Wilson read to the joint session of Congress his appeal for authority to defend the honor of the country with its armed forces.

At 12 o'clock sharp Vice-President Marshall announced the Senate in order. Immediately Senator Lodge of Massachusetts suggested the absence of a quorum and the roll was called.

Notables of Washington official life were late in arriving and other visitors in the galleries leaned eagerly forward to identify the principal actors in the drama about to take place.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who was to open the debate; Senator Shively of Indiana, acting chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Senator Gallinger, the Republican leader; Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, who introduced the bill appropriating $50,000,000 for national defence, all were pointed out as the moment approached when the next chapter of military history of the United States was to be inaugurated.

President Wilson, worn out by the strenuous events of yesterday, slept later than usual this morning and did not arrive at his office until shortly before time for the regular Tuesday Cabinet session at 11 o'clock.

The plans formulated at the “war conference” at the White House last night were presented to the Cabinet today before the meeting of the Senate, and the President spent considerable time in explaining his intentions relative to action in Mexico.

Before the Senate, when it met at noon for one of the most important sessions in its history, was the following resolution:

In view of the facts presented by the President of the United States in his address to Congress in joint session on the 20th of April, 1914, with regard to certain affronts and indignities committed against the United States in Mexico.

Resolved, That the President is justified in

BIG SHIPMENT OF AMMUNITION FOR HUERTA HELD UP

WASHINGTON, April 21.—President Wilson today ordered Rear-Admiral Fletcher to land American marines at Vera Cruz, Mex., to seize the custom house there and prevent a shipment of two million rounds of ammunition and a large quantity of guns from reaching Mexico City.

This, the first aggressive step taken in the President's campaign to force Dictator Huerta to respect the American flag, was followed a few hours later by a report which emanated from the White House to the effect that the Mexican port had been seized. No official confirmation could be secured, however, and when Secretary of the Navy Daniels was asked about it he said:

“No messages have been received by the Navy Department indicating any change at Vera Cruz. So far as the Navy Department knew up to early this afternoon there is no truth in the report.”

Two cipher dispatches were received at the Navy Department just as the secretary was dictating this reply. They were said to have come from Admiral Fletcher, but Secretary Daniels took a decided stand as to giving out information concerning occurrences at Vera Cruz.

“I will not give out any information concerning ships and men in this department which more properly should be given out by the White House or the Secretary of State,” he said.

“Matters that properly should be taken up by the cabinet will not find an expression in this office.”

U. S. SENATE DEBATES THE WAR RESOLUTION

the employment of the armed forces of the United States to enforce his demand for unequivocal amends for the affronts and indignities committed against the United States.

Be it further resolved, That the United States disclaims any hostility to the Mexican people or any purpose to make war upon them.

Fight on Lodge's Substitute

This resolution was submitted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as a substitute for that adopted by the House last night by a vote of 337 to 37, on a ballot in which the negative votes were cast by 29 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 2 Progressives and 1 independent. The House resolution was as follows:

Justifying the employment by the President of the United States of the armed forces of the United States in enforcing certain demands made upon Victoriano Huerta;

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives, in Congress assembled, that the President of the United States of America is justified in the employment of armed forces of the United States to enforce the demands made upon Victoriano Huerta for unequivocal amends to the government of the United States for affronts and indignities committed against this government by General Huerta and his representatives.

The first battle at today's session of the Senate centred about the substitute preamble to the Senate resolution. This was offered by Senator Lodge, ranking Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee, at the session that adjourned shortly after midnight until noon today.

Senator Lodge's substitute preamble, which receives a vote before the main resolution, follows:

That the state of unrestrained violence and anarchy which exists in Mexico, the numerous unchecked and unpunished murders of American citizens and the spoliation of the property of that country, the impossibility of securing protection or redress by diplomatic methods in the absence of lawful or effective authority, the inability of Mexico to discharge its international obligations, the unprovoked insults and indignities inflicted upon the flag and the uniform of the United States by the armed forces in occupation of large parts of Mexican territory, have become intolerable;

That the self-respect and dignity of the United States and duty to protect its citizens and its international rights require that such a course be followed in Mexico by our government as to compel respect and observance of its rights.

Waits for Senate Action

Republican Senators announced their intention of supporting Senator Lodge, declaring that the atrocities against Americans in Mexico should be rectified in any resolution whose ultimate effect probably would be war with the southern republic.

President Wilson is waiting for the Senate to act. Though possessing full authority under the constitution to take measures to protect the honor of the nation in Mexico, he stood firm today in his determination to move to the ultimate arbitration of war only with the approval of Congress.

He agreed with his party leaders that the Senate substitute resolution should be passed early in the afternoon. He would then be ready for the seizure of Vera Cruz and Tampico.

News that a merchant ship, said to have sailed from a German port was nearing the coast of Mexico with 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition for Huerta, was given today as the reason for the efforts of the administration to have Congress hurry through the resolution. The President has asked the leaders in Congress to obtain action on the resolution today, and it was evident that he and his advisers regarded haste as necessary.

Orders have been telegraphed by the Navy Department to have Major Smedley D. Butler's force of marines now on ships in Mexican waters, take the Vera Cruz Railroad when operations were begun.

Immediately after the resolution is passed in the Senate, it will be sent to the President for his signature.

These orders to blockade the principal ports of Mexico will be issued.

A lengthy debate was feared in the Senate today. It is not unlikely that the opponents of the President will succeed in postponing the adoption of the resolution until late in the day.

There was no attempt to conceal the President's disappointment at the failure of Congress to act promptly in accordance with the spirit of the message delivered in person. The President deemed it essential that Congress give him the authority to establish the blockade of Mexican ports without delay.

The President conferred at the White House with the Secretaries of State, War and Navy about the successive steps to be taken to force repatriation from Huerta. Major-General Wood, chief of staff of the army; Rear Admiral Victor Blue, chief of the navy bureau of navigation; Rear Admiral Fiske, chief of the bureau of operations, and John Lind, the President's personal representative in Mexico, were called into the conference.

Respecting the request of the President, when the Senate met after a recess of several hours, taken for the purpose of awaiting the action of the House, Senator Shively, for the Committee on Foreign Relations, introduced the resolution.

Unanimous consent was required for its consideration, and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, the ranking Republican member of the committee, immediately objected.

"I object to this method of procedure," said Senator Lodge. "On what grounds does the Senator object?" asked Senator Shively.

"This is a very grave question and it seems to me important that the resolution should be considered by the committee," replied Senator Lodge. "I believe it should take the regular course and be considered by the committee."

Senator Shively said that he believed the resolution was of such importance that it should be considered at once, but Senator Lodge insisted upon his objection.

"Would the Senator from Massachusetts object to the consideration of the resolution after it had been reported by the committee? Would he be willing to consider it at once if the committee reported it?" asked Senator Fletcher of Florida.

"That would depend upon the character of the resolution," Senator Lodge answered.

GOVERNOR WALSH CALLS MILITIA CHIEFS TO WAR CONFERENCE

Governor Walsh today took steps to prepare for any possible contingency in the threatened war with Mexico, by declaring that all those in command of the thirteen branches of the Volunteer Militia would be asked to meet him in joint conference on Thursday afternoon.

This war-emergency meeting will be held at the State House, to outline the plans for the mobilization of the militia, if necessary. It was decided upon by Governor Walsh only after mature consideration, and after the situation became so serious, as to make war seem almost inevitable. By mobilizing militia in advance, it is thought that Massachusetts may be able to be the first to respond to a call for troops when such is made.

MASS WOULD ENLIST. Governor Walsh today asserted that every man brings offers to enlist from young men in different parts of the State. Hundreds of such letters have been received and that number is increasing as the situation becomes more serious.

Adjutant-General Pearson today wired Congressman F. S. Dickey asking to be left in touch with the status of a bill pending before the Senate, fixing the standing of the volunteer militia in time of war.

Massachusetts has 5,000 trained men fully equipped, ready to throw in the lot at a moment's notice. In case of war with Mexico their is not so much as one live upon the statute books either of State or nation which so much as provides even for their mobilization.

CONSPIRACY IN LAW.

This remarkable situation, results from the fact that the so-called tick law, giving the President control of the volunteer militia, was pronounced unconstitutional by Attorney-General Wickersham some two years ago. With no law authorizing the State officials to call the militia out for service beyond the borders of the State, and the President's hands tied for the same reason, the only way in which the militia could be used in case of war with Mexico would be for them to revolt as individuals in new volunteer companies.

HUERTA STRENGTHENS FORTS AT VERA CRUZ

It was accepted as a fact by naval officers and State Department attaches, nevertheless, that American marines had occupied Vera Cruz at about 10:30 o'clock today. This formed the reason, it is said, for the conference between Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Secretary Bryan just prior to the Cabinet meeting.

President Wilson felt that it would be very unsafe to wait any longer for the official "justification" of his plans by Congress. Even an hour's delay might spell death for hundreds of American soldiers. If the German ammunition reached Mexico City the dictator would be in a position to offer a very strong resistance to any attacking force.

Caused Haste by Wilson

In the absence of this reinforcement the capture of the Mexican capital would be comparatively simple, as it is known that Huerta is practically without ammunition and that his present supply of field guns is antiquated and practically useless for modern warfare.

It developed today that news of this large shipment of ammunition for President Huerta was the real reason for the haste displayed by the administration in bringing the Mexican issue to a head.

President Wilson was informed through foreign agents of the State Department last week that a German factory intended to ship the shells to Mexico City.

The shipment was to be allowed to be landed at Vera Cruz without opposition from Admiral Fletcher of the American authorities so as not to offend Germany. As soon as the German cargo was on shore and had passed into the keeping of the Mexican government, however, the signal was to be given for the landing of marines and the occupation of Vera Cruz by American troops.

Strengthening the Fleet

A large force of American marines will be detained to guard the consignment and any forcible attempt by President Huerta to recover the shells will be construed as an act of war.

The battleship Florida, now at Vera Cruz, has aboard a landing force of 400 men, while the transport Prairie carries 500 marines.

Wireless messages were sent today to Captain Sims, commanding the torpedo destroyer flotilla which left Pensacola for Tampico, to join Admiral Fletcher's ship at Vera Cruz. This order will result in augmenting Fletcher's command and at the same time give him ships which will be able to proceed within a short distance of the shore. Fletcher's other ships are anchored from two and one half to six miles off the coast.

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, April 21.—President Huerta will resist the landing of American marines here.

This was assumed today when General Gustavo Maas received orders from Mexico City to establish a strong force on the islands lying in front of Vera Cruz.

The Mexican commander of the port immediately complied and a large portion of the troops recently sent here from the capital were sent out in boats under the cover of the darkness of early morning. The boats also carried machine guns and ammunition.

Garford 5-ton Chassis $4500

BUYING trucks is like employing men. There are all kinds. But the man who has a record for economically doing his work, with more rapidity and better than his competitors, is the man you want to get.

The installation of the right truck is a strict economy. The installation of the wrong truck is a gross extravagance.

When you investigate the Garford record you find the following important facts:

A truck that for years has been mechanically sound and substantial.

A truck that goes and comes, day in and day out, with the least upkeep, the least waste of time, and practically no attention.

A truck that is built and backed by one of the greatest organizations in the world.

A truck that has every modern mechanical improvement incorporated in its fine chassis.

A truck that is made to weather the wear and tear of every-day-in-the-year service.

A truck that is being used by the foremost concerns in America.

The truck that is backed by a thorough and practical local service.

It will pay any business man to further look into the merits of the Garford Truck. Names of various and numerous users on request.

We would like to call and explain the many advantages the Garford Truck has over any other truck made.

LAZEST STOCK MARKETS

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks were strong this afternoon, having in most instances held steady gains. If they did not increase them. Markets were quiet on the whole. Contrary to the expectation of some observers prices did not continue downward after the marked recession which was a feature some days close yesterday. The expectation of war with Mexico was not a bear factor up to this afternoon.

By that time in New York gains included St. Paul, Alaska Gold, Canadian Pacific, Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Reading, New Haven, American Telephone, American Gas, Steel and Aluminum, Northern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio and Union Pacific. Mexican Petroleum was of L. Studebaker 1 and American Smelting & Lehigh Valley had lost its morning gain and was off 1/2. Bears found little out of the list, continuing pressure upon this stock. Over midday they had not been in causing it to break half again.

The Boston market was a lower level and weakened further during the morning. The most local issues were showing losses down to 1/2. and other coppers were the prominent feature. The Boston market recovered to 1/2 and was then off 1/2. Greene-Cannahan, and declined off 1/2. American Telephone and Occidental, 1/2. These declines were from Saturday's final prices. New Haven and Boston & Maine were each up 1/2. Elevated was down 1/2 and United Fruit 1/2.

MORNING RANGE WAS HIGHER.

When the New York market began it was irregular, but almost immediately prices began to rise, news about the "war situation" being a factor at all apparently, unless it was of the bull variety.

The opening prices averaged fractionally higher, Lehigh Valley being among leaders to continue an upward large gain. Thereafter during the morning the trend was downward, though broken by a number of strong reactions. There was a very heavy client crowd Wall Street, including commission houses and the stock exchange. This afternoon, however, traders, who had expected another slump, during the first hour of trading was more business for such a period than for some time. Transactions totaling nearly 150,000 shares. As usual, trading slackened in the latter part of the forenoon when the tone was strong and most important railroad and industrial issues were higher. The advance in Union Pacific at that time made it prominent.

"WAR" TALK WAS GENERAL.

The prospective war with Mexico was an absorbing topic of conversation, and it seemed to be generally believed that with trade as depressed as it has been for some time and now in the country would be no worse off than it is at present. It is believed that the war with Mexico should be engaged in actual hostilities. The view was that the Mexican administration could stand at the time to devote to fighting "the business." The latter would welcome a "war." Steel opened unchanged and received a trade during the morning, but during most of that period was above Monday's closing price. It is reported that the steel industry is showing slight improvement, and at present it is stated that plants as a whole are operating on Wall Street.

AMERICAN GAS WAS STEADY.

American Gas was steady today, but yesterday, when it declined about two points on the rumor that Daniel T. Reid, now in Europe, had called orders for the liquidation of the holdings in that issue and others with which he is heavily connected. This contributed to the slump in Lehigh Valley yesterday. The rumor was emphatically denied by Reid's office. It is argued that a war would benefit American Gas, as it would benefit the oil and coal industries.

VERY DULL AT MIDDAY.

The market was quiet at midday with prices firm and operators following the policy that President Wilson has abandoned being "watchful waiters." Among the strongest leaders at the end of the morning were Chesapeake & Ohio, Great Northern preferred, Lehigh Valley, Missouri Pacific, Pennsylvania, Reading and Union Pacific. Steel was about fractional gain. Southern Pacific was almost a point higher, although it would be very much affected by intervention in Mexico. It is reported that American interests in that country total amount to $107,770,000. Mexican themselves have property amounting to $107,187,000. British interests are supposed to foot up to $21,521,200. American investments in railroads and $22,000,000 in mines. The American people have been demonstrating now that in financial matters the people of the United States have in the preservation of their country the country's best interest.
